Secretary of American Institute of Architects Tells Why Monument Near Union Station and Highway to Gettysburg Are Not Feasible Plans-Wants Memorial Bridge.

Special to The Washington Herald. New York, Feb. 5.-Lincoln was the topic of discussion at the meeting of the National Institute of Art and Letters at the University Club here to-night.

A memorial to the great emancipator at the National Capital was strongly urged, and in this connection Glenn Brown, secretary of the American Institute of Architects, made a lengthy address. In part he spoke as follows:

"A memorial to Abraham Lincoln appeals strongly to our imagination as we see it expressing in form and proportion our appreciation for the simple, lovable man and wise, far-seeing statesman.

"Three bills are before Congress for a Lincoln memorial. The McCall bill for a structure on the ground adjoining the Union Station, the Lafean bill for a highway from Washington to Gettysburg, and the Newlands bill for a memorial in accordance with the park commission's recommendations.

"The McCall bill offers no definite design or site. The memorial is to be somewhere, and of some form, on an irregular forty-acre tract. The author of the bill informs us that several prominent architects have made designs, but no one of them seems to meet with sufficient favor to have been incorporated in the bill. Among the schemes favorably under consideration for the station, but wanting in the in-dividuality and distinction necessary to
